SOUTH DAKOTA

(What not to miss this Christmas)

Rev. Dr. Scott Sailer
District President

For many people, the one thing you don't want to miss at Christmas is family. Getting the extended family together, remembering times and loved ones past, sharing a meal around the table, opening presents near the tree — that's what Christmas is all about.

Ask a child and those presents are likely the things they don't want to miss at Christmas. What would Christmas be without presents? Sure, the tree is nice and all, but come on, show me the presents!

For many others, even those who aren't Christians, it's the "feeling" or spirit of Christmas that really matters. Lots of folks who have never set foot in a church still set up a tree, exchange gifts and maybe even sing a few carols. For them, it all helps to create a good feeling, some sense of happiness during the season.

But there's more, much more. (There needs to be much more!) Today, we humbly offer another "don't-miss-this" proposition for this particular Christmas — something that most people would seem to be missing in a world where war and political battles light up our TV screens, where illness and death are at the forefront in the minds of many of us. Read Luke and one important phrase seems to jump out. Whether you're reading Luke for the first time or you've read it a thousand times, linger on these two words: "Fear not."

Luke uses this phrase three times in the first two chapters of his Gospel. Each time, those words "fear not," are spoken by an angel. Twice the angel is identified as Gabriel. The phrase "fear not" functions as a kind of thesis statement for the story that will follow: the birth, life, death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus. It's because of the newborn King that we need no longer be afraid.

We don't want to miss out on family or presents or the "feeling." But Christmas is an opportunity not to miss out on being unafraid.

This is possible for you. Yes, you! And why is that? Because God loves us with an everlasting love. He loves us enough to come as one of us, die for us, and live with us and in us. It's not favor that we earn. Instead, it is the ultimate gift — better than all the presents under the tree. We call that gift "grace," and God offers it to us lavishly. He gives us what we don't deserve through Jesus Christ: forgiveness of all our sins, not punishment for them; heaven, not hell — because Jesus took our sins upon Himself and died for them, and even suffered eternal punishment for them. Through faith in Jesus, God the Father Lindy Hinckley, who serves as a Lutheran Family Service counselor, has encouraging words for the wives of South Dakota District pastors who attended the retreat. Lindy's husband serves as a pastor in the district.

Pastors' wives have first retreat

Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. HEBREWS 12:1-3

In late September, LCMS pastors' wives from across South Dakota met in Pierre for a weekend retreat of refreshment and renewal. Lutheran Family Service (LFS) provided homemade meals, meaningful presentations and restful activities, all centered around "RACE" (Rest/Renew/Restore/Rejuvenate, Adversity, Community and Endure).

The event kicked off with a fellowship dinner, followed by a Bible study led by Angela Kollbaum, LFS counselor and wife of Rev. Todd Kollbaum, pastor of Trinity, Madison, Neb. The Bible study sparked insightful conversation and connection centered around resting/renewing/restoring/rejuvenating through God's Word. It set the focus of the weekend on God and what He can do to help us run our "race."

The next day, following conversations over breakfast, Lindy Hinckley, LFS counselor and wife of Rev. Robert Hinckley, pastor of Grace, Deadwood, and Blessed Emmanuel, Sturgis, encouraged the ladies to consider what adversity they were facing. She then sent them out on a prayer walk in various parks around Pierre. The ladies focused on who they are in Christ and what that means for them as they face adversity.

Next came lunch and a craft to enjoy fellowship with each other. Guest speaker Emily Woodall focused on community, sharing about her experience growing up as a pastor's kid and how her community supported her. She focused on the power of the community of Christ in our lives.

Finally, Lindy wrapped up the weekend with a presentation that led into a discussion about endurance. The ladies talked about their prayer walks and how they face adversity with endurance rooted in their faith.

The retreat weekend was blessed with beautiful weather, empowering conversations and lasting connections between those who understand what it means to be a pastor's wife — and run the "race" that God sets before them.

Welcome, Pastor Schopp!

Rev. Chad Schopp was installed as senior pastor of Our Savior, Aberdeen, and St. John, Columbia, on Oct. 13. Pastor Schopp has previously served as an admissions counselor at Concordia Theological Seminary, Fort Wayne, from which he is also a 2013 graduate. He and his wife, Tami, have three sons and two granddaughters. Chad and Tami are pictured with their son, Brayden.

Mortgage sent to 'ash heap' of history

Academy opens in Black Hawk

Divine Shepherd Lutheran Church and School, Black Hawk, was blessed to open the doors of its kindergarten through fourth-grade Classical Academy on Sept. 3. The congregation had been praying and seeking God's will earnestly for nearly two years beforehand. God answered prayers by sending a teacher, Erin Norman, who holds degrees in special education, and agricultural education and communications from the University of Wyoming. She and her husband, Scott, are members of Divine Shepherd. Their two boys, Marshall and Garrett, are also academy students.

in the trivium, comprising grammar, logic and rhetoric. Students are taught to gather information, critically reason, and express information. Classical Lutheran education acknowledges God as the source of all knowledge and learning and expresses this back to the Triune God.

The Academy opened as a microschool with five students. Rev. Dennis Mercer, Divine Shepherd associate pastor, serves as headmaster. He completed the Specific Ministry Pastor program through Concordia Theological Seminary, Fort Wayne. Pastor Mercer and Norman were installed in their respective positions on Sept. 8 at Divine Shepherd.

Thanks be to God for His continued blessings to His church!

Gifts will be easier for you — and the recipients

Fall is in the air as I write this article, but it's also time to think ahead to summer. The LWML Nebraska North and Nebraska South districts are thrilled to welcome each of you to the 41st LWML Biennial Convention, to be held June 26–29 in Omaha! The theme, “Growing in God’s Grace,” is based on 2 Peter 3:18:

But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and forever! Amen.

The banner procession always sets the tone for the LWML convention as it beautifully expresses the theme while highlighting the God-given talents of our districts. The LWML South Dakota District is looking for women who would be interested in making banners. Banner ideas are due to me by Jan. 1. Details are available at sdlwml.org/lwml-convention-2025, or reach out to me.

Gifts from the Heart Gifts from the Heart is getting a makeover for Omaha! What does this mean? Change. Yes, change — positive and necessary change. The days of packing and hauling boxes across the country are over.

This year, we will use Amazon to shop for physical items for our three recipients. Each recipient has selected their top nine item needs and put them

Mary Jo Stier
LWML District
President

on an Amazon wish list. The 10th item for each recipient is Visa gift cards (any dollar amount). This will allow us to work smarter and not harder during the convention.

Gifts from the Heart shopping opens on Feb. 1 and remains open through the convention.

Please use Amazon wish lists to shop online and ship directly to our recipients before the convention. The link will soon be provided. Shop individually or make it a group event.

Physical items will still be accepted at the convention, and we will have volunteers ready to help. But our hope is that we can cut the number of items to be handled in Omaha.

Why the change? The physical burden for the Gospel Outreach Committee, volunteers, and the recipients themselves has become a burden. Recipients are thankful and blessed by the truckloads of items. But coordinating transportation to their facilities and unpacking and storing so many items received at one time can be difficult. This new system will provide our recipients with their top needs over the course of several months during 2025 and not all in one weekend.

I hope you will join us in Omaha. It's going to be an incredible time of worship, and learning more about our Lord as we unite in fellowship with one another.

Funding help available

Do you know of a need in your congregation or in a group? Do you have a preschool, early-education center, or school? Is there a mission that is dear to you? The LWML South Dakota District wants to help.

Throughout the years, the LWML South Dakota District (LWML SD) has received monetary gifts, bequests and honorariums. These have always been grouped together as a Special Gifts Fund. Through an application process, some of these funds could help a need of which you are aware.

Here are the criteria to request these funds:

- ▶ Requests from the Special Gifts Fund may be proposed by LWML members, groups and zones; and the district executive committee and Board of Directors.
- ▶ Requests will be considered by the LWML SD Finance Committee and taken to the district Board of Directors for approval.
- ▶ Use of the funds shall be for mission emphasis, extending the ministry of the Word; and be current and ready for implementation.
- ▶ Recipient(s) of an approved request shall provide a written report to the LWML SD Finance Committee chairman following the spending of the funds, verifying the use of the funding. This could include photos.
- ▶ Written reports shall be submitted every six months after receipt of funds, until the funds are fully used. Once all the funds are spent, please submit a written report within two months.
- ▶ Funds shall be used within a year's time of receipt. If an extension is needed, contact the LWML SD District Finance Committee chairman.

The LWML SD District Special Gift Fund application may be found at sdlwml.org. Go to “Resources” and select “Special Gifts/Subscriptions” from the drop-down menu.

BROOKINGS ZONE UPDATE

The Brookings Zone was well represented at the LWML South Dakota District Convention — “Inexpressible Joy, Matchless Savior” — in Aberdeen in June, proclaiming that “joy” to our LWML sisters and congregations.

The Brookings Zone LWML also had the opportunity to witness and help at the Puppet Place during the South Dakota State Fair. Ten of our Brookings Zone congregation members helped by inviting and greeting fair goers to the puppet show. Hand puppets, devotions and whistles were given to those who attended the show.

Mount Calvary, Brookings, hosted our Fall Rally on Oct. 5. Our theme was based on Matt. 25:35: “For I was hungry

COUNSELOR'S CORNER

First and foremost — JESUS IS SAVIOR

“Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary as your wife, for that which is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. She will bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins.”

MATTHEW 1:20-21

Listen to Christ's mission statement again: “For he will save his people from their sins.” Matthew wanted to get Jesus' job description clear from the very beginning: Jesus was coming as a Savior.

Rev. Brian Mosemann
LWML District Counselor

That's it.

It's funny, and somewhat depressing, that in the intervening years, we've come up with all sorts of other things that Jesus is — healer, lover, example, unifier, friend. Jesus is all of those things. But above all else, Jesus is Savior. Period. That Jesus is anything else is a by-product of His saving work.

It's interesting that the angel inserted Jesus' ultimate job into what is basically His birth announcement. Traditionally, we don't start hearing about Jesus as Savior until the end of His life. At His birth, we're much more interested in magi, gifts and there being no room in the inn.

However, the very first thing God, through His angelic messenger, told Joseph about His son is that He's coming to save people from their sins. The angel didn't say Jesus was coming to lead them or teach them or even to love or comfort them, but to save them.

That is what John was talking about in Revelation, when he says that Jesus is the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. That was always the plan!

Jesus' death, resurrection and ascension isn't a story about God making the best out of a bad situation. It is about a plan working to perfection and an ultimate triumph, and it's a plan instituted at His birth announcement. We take comfort in the words of the angel to Joseph: Into this sinful world a Savior has come, and His name is Jesus.

and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me.” Rev. Tim Rynearson led our Bible study. Linnea Schwandt and Joyce Kasuske shared about the mission and outreach of Orphan Grain Train (OGT). An ingathering of teachers kits, waterproof pants for infant kits and other items were donated to OGT. Mary Jo Stier, LWML district president, gave a district news update. A short business meeting and election of officers closed the meeting.

The district Christian Life workshops gave us opportunities for growing in our faith. Rev. Dr. Jacob Bobby presented on “Understanding Mass Media from a Christian Perspective.”

UNITED FOR LIFE

Life is a gift given by our Almighty and All-gracious God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Psalm 139 gives all human beings, born and unborn, dignity and God-given worth:

*For You formed my inward parts;
You knitted me together in my mother's womb (v. 13).*

Jesus Christ Himself, our gracious Redeemer, entered the world, sheltered in the womb of His mother, Mary.

So begins the statement, “No on G,” that in October was affirmed by more than 50 pastors who attended the South Dakota District Pastors’ Conference (pictured above).

As heated as the Amendment G debate had been in our state, such statements played a crucial role in encouraging the voting public to think critically about their voting choices — and encouraged pro-life citizens to show up to the polls.

A separate, interdenominational statement urging a “No” vote on Amendment G was signed by 200 South Dakota pastors, including more than 40 pastors in the LCMS South Dakota District. The statement was a strong response to a statement published earlier by proponents of Amendment G, which was signed by 35 clergy members across five Christian denominations, including the United Church of Christ, the Episcopal Church, the United Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church USA and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

The statement put out by the South Dakota District reads, “Make no mistake: This is an abortion amendment, hiding in highly deceptive ‘women’s health’ language.”

The interdenominational statement standing against Amendment G reads, in part: “Instead of our constitution safeguarding the weakest and most vulnerable in our society, it would entirely remove all the basic rights of the most defenseless South Dakotans. This is not the kind of ‘freedom’ we want in South Dakota. ... As leaders of many different faith communities, we stand united behind the truth that God is the Author of Life, and every life He creates deserves a place at our table. God does not make ‘mistakes.’”

PRAISE GOD! Voters in South Dakota eventually rejected the amendment. “I give thanks to the Lord of Life for guarding the lives of the smallest and most vulnerable among us by way of the defeat of Amendment G,” said District President Rev. Dr. Scott Sailer in reaction to the outcome.

March in Washington, D.C.

You are invited to join Rev. Ryan Drevlow, district life coordinator and pastor of St. Paul’s, Aberdeen, and St. Paul’s, Leola; Rev. Dr. Matthew C. Harrison, LCMS president; and other Lutherans at the National March for Life in Washington, D.C., on Jan. 24. Your presence will help provide a public witness to the sanctity of life and God’s design for marriage and family.

First, join your brothers and sisters in Christ for Divine Service at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Alexandria, Va., followed by brunch in the church fellowship hall before heading to the march.

Coming to Mount Calvary, Brookings: Higher Things LGBTQIA(NSWERS)

What do you do when people you know announce they identify as part of the LGBT community? What do you do when you start questioning who God has created you to be?

We live in a world of darkness and confusion that needs the light of Christ. But how do we faithfully bring the light of Christ? This retreat will dig into how we ended up here culturally, what Scripture has to say about these topics, and how to live in Christ despite the confusion and suffering that surrounds us.

A Higher Things retreat on talking about gender and sexuality will be held Jan. 19-20 (beginning at 6 p.m. on Sunday and ending at 3 p.m. on Monday) at Mount Calvary, Brookings, and is open to high school and college students. The cost is $40 per person.

For more information, contact Rev. Matthew Wurm, Mount Calvary senior pastor, at pastorwurm@gmail.com. Learn more and register at higherthings.org/events/retreats by Jan. 10.

Youth musicians invited to LSM

Enrollment for Lutheran Summer Music (LSM) 2025 is open now! LSM is a faith-based residential music academy for high school students who come together to immerse themselves in musical excellence and build a supportive and fun community.

Musical experiences include large ensembles (band, choir, orchestra), chamber music, private lessons, and electives like handbells, jazz, musical theatre, composition, conducting, church music and more. The enrollment deadline is March 1. Learn more at lsmacademy.org.

MESSAGE

counts you righteous. Yes, you have found favor with God! Fear not!

The most famous angel announcement of “fear not” takes place in the fields beyond Bethlehem. Shepherds, who are the poorest of the poor, are watching over their flocks when the angel appears and, as the King James Bible says, they were “sore afraid.”

“Fear not,” says the angel, “I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people” (LUKE 2:10). Why were the shepherds to “fear not”? Because the world’s Savior had been born!

Then, notice the angel song: “Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace.” Peace. Not despair, not fear. It is good news for all the people, not just for some. For you! The newborn King would become the King on the cross. And in earning forgiveness for us there, He brings us peace with God. We are reconciled to God through the death of His Son (ROMANS 5:10).

Reconciliation with God brings peace. And such peace brings us joy, an inner peace that sometimes shows up on our faces and is extended to others when we forgive them, serve them and help them to be unafraid.

Have a very Blessed and Merry Christmas!

Your servant in Christ • Pastor Sailer
